

Low Cost Recruitment Advertising Resources

Below is a sampling of job boards that are commonly used by hiring managers and principal investigators. These sites are available at a reasonable cost to the department. The postings range, on average, from $100 to $500 dollars per posting. Pricing is dependent on the website, posting length, and extras added to the posting.

American Chemical Society

Representing the world's largest, most prestigious scientific organization of the American Chemical Society (ACS), C&EN jobs is the only job board that allows employers to reach qualified chemistry talent through 157,000 ACS members and 25 million scientific researchers.

Chronicle of Higher Education

The Chronicle of Higher Education is the No. 1 source of news, information, and jobs for college and university faculty members and administrators. The Chronicle's website features the complete contents of the latest issue; daily news and advice columns; thousands of current job listings; an archive of previously published content; vibrant discussion forums; and career-building tools such as online CV management, salary databases, and more.

HigherEdJobs

HigherEdJobs is the leading source for jobs and career information in academia. More colleges and universities trust HigherEdJobs to recruit faculty and administrators than any other source. Each month their site is visited by more than 1.5 million higher education professionals.

NatureJobs

Nature Research is the home of high impact scientific and medical information in print and online. The Nature Research portfolio includes journals, online databases, and services across the life, physical, chemical and applied sciences and clinical medicine.

Science Careers

Science is one of the most prestigious and widely cited scientific journals in the world. Science's qualified weekly print circulation exceeds 129,000 and—when adding pass-along readership—reaches more than 700,000 readers each week.

SOCRA \(Society of Clinical Research Associates\)

The Society of Clinical Research Associates (SOCRA) is a non-profit, charitable and educational membership organization committed to providing education, certification, and networking opportunities to all persons involved in clinical research activities.