In case you missed it!

It was CPD Healthcare Communication Week in January!
In January 2020, Healthcare Consultancy Group (HCG) came to Einstein to discuss and explain what it really means to work in healthcare communications. Three Einstein alumni, all working at HCG healthcare communication agencies, provided helpful insights and shared their experiences with current Einstein Ph.D. students and postdocs. Everyone was invited to a networking reception and enjoyed food and drinks generously sponsored by HCG. The following day we were joined by Dr. Jung-Eun Lee, Associate Editor of Nature Publishing's Communications Biology, who discussed careers in scientific publishing. The week ended with a walk-in Q&A session for an opportunity to learn more about the Einstein Writing Internship program. Coffee, donuts, and information were available!
